Assumption Updates for the Key Loan Program

Truist Bank (Truist) announces additional mortgage assumption scenarios that are allowable for the Key Loan Program.

Effective Date

Effective for existing and new loan applications on or after January 23, 2026.

Background Information

Truist allows qualifying assumptions in certain circumstances when Truist is the current loan servicer and current investor. Truist takes the opportunity to update its standards relating to allowable mortgage assumptions. Previously, Key Loans were not assumable except as permitted by law. In addition, ARM products have not been assumable until after the initial rate periods.

Bulletin Details

Assumption Updates

Truist takes the opportunity to update the guidance in the Key Loan Standard to further specify allowable mortgage assumptions in additional scenarios, as follows:

- Fixed rate and ARM products are not assumable, except in the event of a borrower's death, divorce, familial transfer, or as required by law.

Note: Borrowers must continue to contact their current mortgage servicer for additional information.
