Correction to Post Closing Documents

General

- Any Post Closing document correction must be completed within fifteen (15) days of notification.
 - When an error is detected, the correspondent will receive notification.
 - Correspondent clients are required to note on the face of the document, when they are submitting an “amended” or “corrected” copy of the document in order to accurately update deficient document exceptions report.

Alternative Correction Methods

General

- When correction is needed to the recorded Security Instrument or recorded Assignment, alternative correction methods may be used. In certain limited circumstances, “validity language” may be an acceptable remedy for minor errors on recorded closing documents, primarily the Security Instrument. Situations where “validity language” is acceptable are limited to:
 - Misspellings in any area other than the legal descriptions or borrower’s/mortgagor’s names; and
 - Errors in the street address of the property.
- The “validity language” must confirm that the insured Mortgagee will not suffer any loss or damage due to the error.
- All other errors must be corrected either by:
 - Correcting the original document, having the mortgagor execute or initial the correction and re-recording the document with a title rundown; or
 - Properly completing and executing a Reformation Agreement, which corrects the error, and recording the Reformation Agreement with a title rundown.
- The recording of a Reformation Agreement or the re-recording of the Security Instrument requires that the effective date and time of the title policy be updated to reflect the recording. Alternative language may be acceptable in some cases where substantial cost is involved, or it is not common practice to update. This language reads as follows:

“This policy affirmatively insures that the re-recording of the Deed of Trust does not change the priority of the insured Deed of Trust form as insured by this policy, notwithstanding the fact that the effective date of this policy has not been changed to the date of re-recording”.
